Executive Operational
Director

Job Profile, January 2026

Executive Operational Director

Purpose of the Role

The Executive Operational Director (“EOD”) of Studio Wayne McGregor (SWM) is a high-level leader who oversees the daily operations of Studio Wayne McGregor’s studio-based activities in London. The EOD is responsible for translating strategic vision into action by optimising processes, leading teams, managing budgets, ensuring compliance to achieve organisational goals, and acting as a crucial link between the Founder/Artistic Director and the CEO of Studio Wayne McGregor, and departmental operations and activities centred around the studio premises in London.

This senior role will have regular contact with the CEO and the Founder/Artistic Director of Studio Wayne McGregor, and a close working relationship with the Associate Director of SWM. The core focus of the role will be to (i) deliver effective management of the Studio at Here East (infrastructure, systems, resourcing), and (ii) support the delivery of the Learning and Engagement, and artist development programs (incl. Resident 6 and FreeSpace).

About us

We are creative, curious and ambitious with equality, sharing, diversity, generosity and collaboration at our centre. We aspire to be a place where a diverse mix of talented people want to come and do their best work. We strive to build an inclusive culture that encourages, supports, and celebrates the individual voices of our team and reflects the communities we work with. We welcome applicants from underrepresented groups—if this is a transition to a more senior role, we will support you / if you do not have directly relevant experience but think this role might be a good fit for your skills, we will support you.
